There are three ways in which prospective doctoral students can join the GIGA Doctoral Programme:

- Students wishing to work full-time on their dissertation project can apply as a fellow. The next cohort of doctoral students will join the GIGA Doctoral Programme on 1 October 2016. Please see the Call for Applications for details and kindly follow our application procedure.
- Researchers already working in third party-funded projects at the GIGA can join the doctoral programme as an associate.
- Doctoral students who are not affiliated with the GIGA can join the doctoral programme temporarily as a visiting doctoral researcher. The requirements and application procedures can be found on our website.

Doctoral students at the GIGA receive their funding from different sources. We provide potential applicants with a list of foundations and institutions that offer scholarships for doctoral students. We encourage all prospective doctoral students to inform themselves about third party-funding opportunities before applying to the GIGA. The final admission to the programme is dependent upon the applicant's ability to provide proof of funding by the starting date.
