

Mecila Doctoral Researcher 2023

Mecila, the Maria Sibylla Merian Centre Conviviality-Inequality in Latin America, is one of five international centres for advanced studies in the humanities and social sciences financed by the German Federal Ministry of Education and Research (BMBF) in cooperation with local institutions and funding agencies. Mecila is an academic consortium composed of three German institutions: Freie Universität Berlin (coordination), Universität zu Köln, and Ibero-Amerikanisches Institut (Stiftung Preußischer Kulturbesitz); and four Latin American institutions: Universidade de São Paulo, Centro Brasileiro de Análise e Planejamento, El Colegio de México, and Instituto de Investigaciones en Humanidades y Ciencias Sociales (CONICET / Universidad Nacional de La Plata). Mecila's headquarters are in São Paulo, Brazil.

Mecila offers up to 6 scholarships to PhD Students enrolled in a doctoral program of Freie Universität Berlin, Universität zu Köln, Universidade de São Paulo, El Colegio de México and Universidad Nacional de La Plata for research stays of 5 months (time period: June – October 2023 or July - November 2023) in São Paulo, Brazil.

Mecila studies the multiple interrelations of conviviality and inequality from an interdisciplinary perspective. It focuses on processes of negotiation, legitimation, contestation, and transformation of existing hierarchies as they take place in everyday interactions and within institutions. The historical, environmental, economic, social, and political contexts in which these interactions occur, as well as their representations, are of central relevance.

Mecila is organised into three Research Areas (a) [Hi]Stories of Conviviality; (b) Medialities of Conviviality and (c) Politics of Conviviality. The project, the doctoral students will develop during their research stay in São Paulo will be attached to one of the Research Areas. For more information on Mecila see <https://mecila.net/>

The monthly scholarship depend on the personal situation of the selected Doctoral Researcher. For Doctoral Researchers from Freie Universität Berlin travel costs (return Economy flight ticket) from Berlin to São Paulo will be paid. Scholarships or salary payments must be interrupted during the duration of the Mecila sponsorship or in case this is not possible, they will be taken into account in the calculation of Mecila's sponsorships.

Responsibilities: During their stay in São Paulo doctoral students should pursue research related to Mecila's overall thematic profile. They should participate actively in the Centre's activities in São Paulo and engage in interdisciplinary exchange. They are required to carry out activities relevant to their dissertation during their term (completion of at least one dissertation chapter, library or archival research or collection of empirical data).

Selection process: Interested doctoral fellows enrolled in a doctoral program at FU Berlin under supervision (Erstgutachten) or co-supervision (Zweitgutachten) of a faculty member of the Institute for Latin American Studies (LAI) are invited to submit an application in a single PDF-Document until 12 December 2022 sent to: Dr. Mariana Teixeira (m.teixeira@fu-berlin.de)

The application should include: letter of motivation, CV, supervisor's recommendation letter, workplan for the stay at Mecila, doctoral proposal (exposé) or dissertation chapter.