

M.RES MASTER BY RESEARCH IN PHILOSOPHY

University of Hull

The following research lines are offered:

- 1: Epistemologies, methodologies and new knowledge
- 3: Body, knowledge and technology

OBJECTIVES

1. Provide advanced postgraduate training in general areas of philosophy (with the possibility of specialization at the stage of dissertation) for students with undergraduate degree in philosophy
2. Function as a conversion degree for students with degrees on related disciplines but no specific training in philosophy
3. Provide special transferable research skills in philosophy and analytical reasoning

ORGANISATION:

Dissertation 120 Credits, Level 7

Long thin module (of two semesters duration:

Philosophical Theories and Texts 20 Credits, Level 7

Semester 1 Module:

Philosophical research Methods 20 Credits, Level 7

Semester 2 Module:

Philosophical research Methods 20 Credits, Level 7

RESEARCH LINES:

The programme consists of three supervised modules, followed by a supervised dissertation (a total of 180 credits at Level 7)

The three supervised modules are:

- Philosophical Research Methods (Semester 1)
- 20 Credits, Level 7
- Philosophical Theories and Texts (Semesters 1 & 2)
- 20 Credits, Level 7
- Philosophy in Practice: Special Topics (Semester 2)
- 20 Credits, Level 7

Philosophy at Hull falls within two categories: “Epistemologies, methodologies and new knowledge” and “Body, knowledge and technology”.

