

16:45 Klaus Weinbauer (Universität Bielefeld)
»(Trans)Local Challenges to Global Order: Entangling Collective Action and Imaginaries of Threat, c. 1916-23«

17:15 Adam Tooze (Columbia University)
»Knaves Proof: The Macroeconomics of Stabilization in Europe and the U.S., 1919-1926«

Commentary: Anthony McElligott (University of Limerick)

19:00 Conference Dinner

SATURDAY 11 JUNE 2016

PANEL VI: PERILS OF DEMOCRACY

CHAIR Birgit Aschmann (Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin)

9:00 Patrick J. Houlihan (University of Oxford)
»Global Catholicism's Crusade Against Communism, 1917-1963«

9:30 Enric Ucelay-Da Cal (Universitat Pompeu Fabra, Barcelona)
»Spain's »Crisis of 1917«: The Failure of Hispanic Radical Change and Contemporary European Alternatives«

Commentary: Helmut Bley (Leibniz Universität Hanover)

10:45 Coffee Break

PANEL VII: CULTURAL MANIFESTATIONS OF REVOLUTION

CHAIR Oliver Janz (Freie Universität Berlin)

11:15 Ricardo Pérez Montfort (Centro de Investigación y Estudios Superiores en Antropología Social, Mexico)
»The Appearance and Rise of Popular Culture: Mexico, Russia and the USA, 1917-1920«

11:45 David Hopkins (University of Glasgow)
»International Dada: Between Aesthetic and Political Revolution«

Commentary: Peter Geimer (Freie Universität Berlin)

13:00 Lunch and Departure

ORGANIZERS

Stefan Rinke (Freie Universität Berlin) and
Michael Wildt (Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin)

CONTACT

revolution16@zedat.fu-berlin.de
<http://www.lai.fu-berlin.de/disziplinen/geschichte/conference-revolutions/index.html>

LANGUAGE

The conference language is English.

REGISTRATION

There are no fees for attendance but registration is essential. If you would like to attend the conference, please register on the website of the Volkswagen Foundation. We have a waiting list for the conference. Therefore, please cancel your attendance using the registration tool if you cannot attend the conference.

VENUE

The conference is held at Herrenhausen Palace, a new conference center in Hanover, Germany.

Schloss Herrenhausen, Auditorium
Herrenhäuser Straße 5
30419 Hanover, Germany

PUBLIC TRANSPORT

You can reach the venue by subway: Take line 4 or 5 in the direction of »Stöcken« or »Garbsen« and get off at station »Herrenhäuser Gärten«.

International Conference
WORLD COUNTER REVOLUTIONS
1917-1920 from a global perspective
Hanover-Herrenhausen | 9-11 June 2016

WORLD COUNTER REVOLUTIONS

Hanover-
Herrenhausen

1917-1920
FROM A GLOBAL PERSPECTIVE

9-11 JUNE
2016

International Conference funded by the Volkswagen Foundation

THURSDAY

9 JUNE

2016

14:00

Welcome Address
Wilhelm Krull, Secretary General of the Volkswagen Foundation

Introduction
Stefan Rinke (Freie Universität Berlin) and
Michael Wildt (Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin)

KEYNOTE

14:30

Jörn Leonhard (Albert-Ludwigs-Universität Freiburg)
»1917-1920 and the Global Revolution of Rising Expectations«

16:15

Coffee Break

PANEL I:

THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION IN EUROPE AND BEYOND

CHAIR

Sebastian Conrad (Freie Universität Berlin)

16:45

Igor Narsky (South Urals State University in Chelyabinsk)
»Light and Blood: Images of the Russian Revolution in the Perception and Behavior of its Participants«

17:15

Michael Jabara Carley (Université de Montréal)
»November 1917: The Beginning of the Cold War«

Commentary: Jan Claas Behrends
(Centre for Contemporary History Potsdam)

POSTER SESSION

SHORT PRESENTATIONS BY YOUNG SCHOLARS

18:30

Alex Burkhardt (University of St. Andrews)
»Revolution and Bürgerliche Radicalisation in Hof-an-der-Saale«

Karina Kriegesmann (Freie Universität Berlin)
»Brazilian Media and the Red Peril«

Tamás Révész (Universität Wien)
»The War Veteran's Memoires about the Revolutions in Austria and Hungary«

Carla Russ (Freie Universität Berlin)
»German War Propaganda, the Mexican Revolution and Anti-Imperialism«

Itzel Toledo García (University of Essex)
»Greuel in Mexiko: German Diplomacy and the Cristero Counter-Revolution in Mexico«

David Murrieta Flores (University of Essex)
»Greuel in Mexiko: Catholic German Representations During the Cristero Counter-Revolution«

Niels Ungruhe (Universität Bielefeld)
»Violence and Fears of a ›Russian‹ Revolution in the Ruhr Area«

Yovita Vakolavene (Georg-August-Universität Göttingen)
»The Role of African Women in the First World War in German East Africa«

Arturo Zoffmann Rodríguez
(European University Institute, Florence)
»The Spanish Anarchists and the Russian Revolution«

19:00

Reception with Poster Session by Young Scholars

FRIDAY

10 JUNE

2016

PANEL II:

ANTI-COLONIAL AND ANTI-IMPERIAL MOVEMENTS

CHAIR

Michael Goebel (Freie Universität Berlin)

9:00

Abdulhamit Kirmizi (Istanbul Sehir University)
»After Empire, Before Nation: Competing Visions of Order in the Ottoman Empire After 1917«

9:30

Jie-Hyun Lim (Sogang University, Seoul)
»Revolution Comes to East: Colonial Modernity, National Subjectivity and Subaltern Everydayness«

Commentary:
Hannes Grandits (Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin)

10:45

Coffee Break

PANEL III:

THE ROLE OF VIOLENCE

CHAIR

Michael Wildt (Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin)

11:15

Tomio Izaō (Yamaguchi Prefectural University)
»The Role of Japan's Intervention in Siberia in Japan's Modern History«

11:45

Robert Gerwarth (University College Dublin)
»The Role of Violence in the European Counter-Revolution, 1917-1939«

Commentary: Jan Schmidt (Katholieke Universiteit Leuven)

13:00

Lunch

PANEL IV:

NATIONALIST MOVEMENTS AND TRANSNATIONAL CONNECTIONS

CHAIR

Stefan Rinke (Freie Universität Berlin)

14:30

María Inés Tato (Universidad de Buenos Aires/CONICET)
»Rethinking National Identity. Argentina at the Critical Juncture of 1917«

15:00

Guoqi Xu (University of Hong Kong)
»China in the Age of Revolutions and Counter-Revolution«

Commentary: Klaus Mühlhahn (Freie Universität Berlin)

16:15

Coffee Break

PANEL V:

VISIONS OF ORDER

CHAIR

Andreas Eckert (Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin)