

Dear colleagues,

In cooperation with the IASS Postdam, the Brazil Research Center of the Institute for Latin American Studies (LAI) at Freie Universität Berlin cordially invites you to a lecture and discussion in the IPA Lecture Series, on

"Implementing the Paris Agreement in Brazil: Some challenges of National Laws and Policies".

by Professor Ana Maria Nusdeo of the Law School at the University of São Paulo

Wednesday, 12th July 2017, 14:30-16:00
in Room 243, Rüdesheimerstr. 54-56
Lateinamerika-Institut
14197 Berlin

Prof. Ana Maria Nusdeo is Professor of Environmental Law at the Law School of the University of São Paulo in Brazil. She is also the President of the "Law for a Green Planet Institute", a Brazilian NGO focusing on the advancement of environmental law. Her main research interests are new approaches to environmental governance; policy mix experiences in environmental law; economic and distributional issues in environmental policies; climate change policies and accountability in the legal debate.

Her recent publications include: "Prospect of transition into sustainable energy in developing countries: an analysis of Brazilian Public Programs"; Revista Catalana de Dret Ambiental, 2015; co-authored with Livia Regina Batista; "Pagamento por serviços ambientais (PSA) no Brasil e sua governança: Experiências e reflexões" In: MORATO LEITE, José Rubens e PINTO AYDOS, Elena: "O Estado Regulador no cenário ambiental"; co-authored with Natália Jodas and "Pagamento por serviços ambientais. Sustentabilidade e Disciplina Jurídica, São Paulo: Atlas, 2012 (winner of the Brazilian National Book Prize "Jabuti" in the field of law).

This lecture is not only addressed to lawyers but to anyone interested in Brazil's national climate policy after the Paris Agreement. The lecture will be followed by a moderated discussion.

Please feel free to forward this invitation to interested colleagues, and kindly RSVP no later than Friday, 7 July 2017, 12:00 pm using the following link

Many thanks, we are looking forward to fruitful discussions with many of you following the lecture.

Renata Motta on behalf of the Brazil Research Center and Patrick Toussaint on behalf of the IPA team

The IPA Lecture Series is an initiative to create a space for critical reflection on the implementation of the Paris climate agreement.

We regularly invite prominent scholars and researchers to present innovative ideas and engage in an open discussion with an interdisciplinary audience.
